Our Case for Johnson

In regard to the Governor's race, we declared our position last week as one favorable to Keen Johnson. This week, we avail ourselves of the opportunity of explaining our stand more fully and pointing out specific reasons why we are supporting Mr. Johnson.

We want it thoroughly understood, however, that we appreciate fully the views of every citizen in regard to this or any other campaign. To vote as one chooses is the privilege of every person. To support whomever one chooses is a right of equal magnitude.

Friends of this newspaper will support both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Brown—the most, we trust, on the side of the former—and to both we give the assurance that whether or not we have been wise victoriously in choosing Mr. Johnson in the primary, we shall support the democratic choice both loyally and vigorously.

Inasmuch, therefore, as this newspaper is an instrument of public assimilation, we present the reasons for our support of Mr. Johnson, the administration candidate.

1. He is a capable, efficient, industrious, studious, and gifted gentleman whom we would deem it an honor to call Governor.

As an administrator, Mr. Johnson has proved himself worthy in every capacity. He has always been stable, a qualification which we cannot conscientiously observe in Mr. Brown, and we feel we are availing the judgment of every scrupulous citizen when we say stability is the prime requisite for good government.

The processes by which governmental action becomes effective over a State-wide area are necessarily slow, in a relative sense, and at the head of such movements must be men whose loyalty, industry, and decision are constant. Too frequent changes of mind, too frequent shifting of support, too frequent forgetfulness of purpose are stunning blows to the vital arteries of the state. Such has been the record of John Young Brown, not of Keen Johnson.

2. Mr. Johnson is a friend to agriculture, to labor, to education, and to principle. He will support them all.

He has consistently backed the better features of the National Farm Program. Born on a farm, reared in an environment of Godliness, he was acquainted with toil. He knows the problems of agriculture as few statesmen do. He favors soil conservation, diversification of crops with livestock, good roads from farm-to-market, electricity for the rural homes.

Supported by the most democratic labor organization in the world, the American Federation of Labor headed by President William Green, Keen Johnson has been and will continue to be the champion of the working people. Whereas the Brown-supporting CIO affiliates of John L. Lewis employ anarchistic practices to dictate the labor ambitions of Lewis—calling strikes and inducing mob violence in many instances of which all of us are acquainted—the policy of the American Federation of Labor has been one of arbitration in which labor problems were worked out by consultation and intelligent reasoning. Mr. Johnson is a supporter of the policies of the latter method. Mr. Brown is an attorney whose duty it is to enforce the platform of John L. Lewis. Would his sympathy change in the Governor's chair? Could it be that his CIO directorate feels it could further its own radical ambitions in Kentucky with Brown as the State's chief executive?

Mr. Johnson's friendship to education has been long felt. His influence was instrumental and largely beneficial in the raising of the school fund to $12 per capita during the present administration. His work in behalf of schools, both rural and urban, elementary and advanced, has received commendation all over the State.

In principle, Mr. Johnson is conscientiously frank, scrupulously honest, ethical, tolerant, eminently loyal, and steadfastly appreciative. He is a faithful Christian. He is devoted to church and state, to state and civic institutions, to progressive movements. The moral and social progress of Kentucky's civic and political life will be strengthened by Johnson's Governorship.

In regard to the ethical institution of old-age assistance, Mr. Johnson has made it plain he favors $20 a month for those persons of advanced age whose need for such assistance is imperative, but he would not go so far as to bankrupt the State by bringing about such aid. He is violently opposed to the principle of a sales tax, the evils of which are magnified by the transactions tax which Mr. Brown would have instituted in Kentucky.

3. Mr. Johnson has made a good Lieutenant-Governor. He will make a better Governor.

Notwithstanding the fact that opportunities to act as Chief Executive come only during the absence of the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor Johnson showed rare ability in caring for the duties of office during the absence of one of the most active Governors in the history of Kentucky.

As vice-governor then of a program of wide state activity, Mr. Johnson is the one man in Kentucky capable of continuing a widely beneficial program already started: roads, education, conservation, public relations, state institutions and most of all the paying of the State debt. Without thought for his own political destiny, he would serve the State.

4. We believe Mr. Johnson will be elected as the next Governor of Kentucky.

We have sounded public opinion rather generally over the State. Yes, we believe Mr. Johnson will be elected. We are confident the people of this state, recognizing quality, will extend to their most capable eligible administrator the office of Governor. This man who before he ever became a political luminary outlined the same progressive platform as editor of the Richmond Daily Register which he now advocates will not change from the policy he feels will be best for Kentuckians. As Governor, he will be true to his platform. Would Brown be true to his? Could he be?

Unemployment Compensation Checks Are Mailed to Jobless

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 13.—Of the checks of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission today announced that checks totaling more than $3,000,000, and representing payments to jobless workers under the Kentucky Unemployment Insurance Law, had been mailed from its office as of July 6.

The Commission first began the payment of jobless benefits February 1. Average payments to each worker have been $8.54 per week.

The balance in the Kentucky Unemployment Trust Fund as of July 6 stood at $21,573,396.19, it was announced.

That it had been for the enactment of the Kentucky Job Insurance Law by the special session of the Legislature December 29, 1936, called by Governor A. B. Chandler for that purpose, this entire amount, including payments already made to jobless workers, would have been lost to the unemployed workers of this state, V. E. Barnes, executive director of the Commission, explained.

WATCH YOUR MILK SUPPLY

(EDITORIAL)

The constant vigilance of our county and city physicians over all matters of public health is to be commended, and especially Dr. C. H. Jones, of Lynn Grove, in diagnosing last week the illness of Carroll Martin Rogers, 12, as undulant fever.

Undulant fever in itself is not especially fatal, but very disagreeable and long lasting. The germ comes from milk from cows which are affected with what is commonly known as Bang's disease, or contagious abortion.

State authorities have been invited to investigate the extent of infection in this county, and all farmers are urged to watch their cattle, and if they desire to have their herds tested, report to J. T. Cochran, county agent.

Farmers who use their own milk supply are urged to have their herds tested right away as a protection to their family and friends.

People in the city who buy their milk should insist on pasteurized milk, as milk, properly pasteurized, will be safe from the abortive germ. Pasteurization is no strange process, but, when done scientifically, utterly means holding the milk at a constant temperature of 142 to 145 degrees for a period of about 30 minutes, which destroys all such germs as well as those causing septic sore throat, T. B. and others, and which sometimes are found in the milk. Boiling milk is not so effective as proper pasteurization since the constant temperature in the latter method does not destroy the calcium content and food value of the milk as boiling would. Fortunately for the citizens of Murray, there is a source of milk supply here that is properly pasteurized.

This editorial is not written to cause a state alarm, but merely as a warning to mothers and housewives to watch their milk supplies, and to avoid a spread of this disease.

Mrs. Willie Luter Baucum

Files in Representative Race

Becoming the first woman in the history of Calloway county to make the race for Representative, Mrs. Willie Luter Baucum today announces formally her entrance into the race for the highly-coveted post.

In no wise a stranger to the citizens of Calloway county, Mrs. Baucum was born and raised just south of Murray, living on a farm there for 22 years. One of eight girls in a family of nine children, she learned early in life what it is to work in the fields. Many times she followed her father as he plowed, drilling corn in the furrows he made.

Although to look at the quiet, handsome Mrs. Baucum one would scarcely suspect it, she has pitched hay in the redtop fields on hot July days, has wormed and suckered tobacco, cultivated crops, and done all the chores necessary around the farm.

She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Luter. Living now in College Addition, she is the mother of three children, Dorothy, 20, and Treman, Jr., and Charles. She obtained her schooling at Murray High School.

Mrs. Baucum's formal announcement follows:

TO THE VOTERS OF CALLOWAY COUNTY:

I take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for State Representative of Calloway county subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 5.

In making my announcement I believe the voters of Calloway county should know the things which I advocate and will strive to see enacted into law.

It shall be my purpose to provide a maximum old age pension of $30 per month and cancel all previous liens on any and all properties which the State of Kentucky now holds pertaining to old age assistance.

I believe the farmers of Calloway county should have no further increase in taxes on real estate, in fact, I shall advocate the removal of all state taxes on farm lands.

Believing the progress of Murray, Calloway county and our college is being suppressed by the toll bridges of Western Kentucky, and believing the bridges are a part of our highway system I shall work diligently and cooperatively on any feasible plan by which our bridges may be freed in the immediate future.

I pledge myself wholeheartedly to support in every way West Kentucky's great educational institution the Murray State Teachers College. It shall furthermore be my desire to see that the rural teachers of our county be adequately paid for the services rendered.

Realizing the degradation, suffering and heartaches that comes from the use of alcoholic beverages I promise the righteous people and the youth of Calloway county that I shall raise my voice on every occasion to see to it that Calloway county remains dry in every sense of the word.

I am convinced that Calloway county should receive more assistance from the State Highway Department in the further development of the farm-to-market roads. There is a large part of our citizenship who do not live on our state maintained highways, therefore I believe every effort possible should be put forth to complete the rural highway system.

There are many other worthy causes which I shall advocate if you elect me your State Representative, however space does not permit me to go further into my platform.

Realizing the short time in which I have to make this campaign, it will be impossible to see all of the voters in person, and Calloway county therefore to those whom I am unable to see please consider this as a personal appeal for your vote, influence and support on August 5.

Sincerely,
MRS. WILLIE LUTER BAUCUM

HERE AND THERE BY R. B. WEAR

Ralph B. Crouch
Lynn Grove, Ky.

Dear Ralph:

I will have to admit I'm not so hot as a sports authority, but I will attempt to answer your questions or will get information for you any time you may wish to write in to this column.

To your first question: Tommy Farr went 15 rounds with the Brown Bomber. Joe won the decision but there was a great difference in the opinion of the spectators with many thinking Tommy had won until the final announcement was made. These two gentlemen have met but once in the padded ring.

To your second question pertaining to number of rounds in title bouts: I think you will find that each state has a boxing commission which regulates the number of rounds to a title bout. New York state has a limit of 15 rounds while Michigan, where Joe will next fight, lets the fight struggle go on for 21 rounds.

Glad to hear from you and will endeavor to answer any question you may wish to answer. Just drop a card to Sports Department, Ledger & Times.

Sincerely yours,

R. B. Wear

Ye old baseball game is taking the front during the sweltering days of summer. We find the grand old game being played from hillside to the smooth diamonds of the major league parks.

Pine Bluff took Hardin 7-2 on the latter's diamond Saturday. P. Trimble and T. Trimble worked for Hardin and Curry and Elkins for Pine Bluff. Pine Bluff probably played its best game of the season. Hardin scored in 2nd and 3rd. Pine Bluff in 5th and 7th. To the count and the latter rallied in the 11th to score 5 runs. Curry was hit for 3 hits and struck out 17. Trimble struck out 5 and gave up 12 hits.

Red Cross Work Aids in Breathitt

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Volunteer Red Cross workers in this week combed flood debris in three eastern Kentucky counties for more than a score of persons missing in the wake of a summer cloudburst which has been estimated to have affected the homes and crops of 2,000 families.

Maurice Redd, national director of disaster relief for the Red Cross is directing relief operations.

Alarming reports of loss of life in Breathitt County reached the Red Cross here from a man named Sam Hurst, who phoned the Lexington Red Cross chapter, stating he had walked 20 miles to reach a telephone. Red Cross workers were ordered into the county to check up after it was found communication could not be established by telephone to verify the reports.

The national disaster relief staff here has been in communication with the disaster front hourly since word reached the outside world of the catastrophe.

Benton Wins First Round Junior Ball

Gilbertsville and Pine Bluff Fight for Lead in Senior Loop

Benton's American Legion Junior baseball nine won undisputed possession of first place at the conclusion of the first round of play in the Junior League in Marshall, Calaway, and Graves county with six victories and no defeats according to figures released today. Schedule for the second round has not been released.

Murray placed second in the first round with three wins and three losses; Mayfield was third with two wins in six games; and Pine Bluff brought up the rear with one victory.

The standings were completed Sunday when Mayfield trimmed Murray 7-2 after the Murray lads had led 2-0 going into the eighth inning. Pine Bluff lost to Benton 5-4. In Saturday's games, Murray trimmed Pine Bluff 9-6 and Mayfield forfeited to Benton after playing ineligible men in a game which they annexed 9-8.

In the senior league, Gilbertsville continued to set the pace by trimming Mayfield. Neither Gilbertsville nor Pine Bluff has lost a game, but the TVA nine has won more games. Pine Bluff was close behind with victories over Hardin and Pryorsburg by 7-3 and 13-7 margins. Hazel beat Cherry 5-1 in seven innings as Cherry's star hurlers Mitchell and Willoughby were out. This weekend, Cherry plays Mayfield at the diamond of the latter and Pine Bluff takes on a team from Murray College, both games being played Sunday.

Saturday, Pine-Bluff plays Gilbertsville and Hazel takes on Pryorsburg.

Johnson Favors Repeal of Tax On Cigarettes

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 13.—A Kentucky Farm-Bureau Federation proposal to eliminate the present state tax on cigarettes has the endorsement of Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Under the plan, Johnson said, the federal government would refund 20 per cent of the federal tobacco tax to states having no tax of their own on tobacco.

"This would permit the immediate repeal of the present state tax law which I would like to see done as soon as possible," he said.

AN APPRECIATION

We are unable to use words that would adequately express our very deep appreciation for the many deeds of kindness and words of sympathy extended us on the part of our many friends and neighbors during the many months of illness and the passing of our dearly beloved daughter, sister, companion and mother.

Our gratitude especially goes out to Drs. Will and Ora Mason for their continued sympathetic services; for the comforting words expressed by those brethren who had a part in the funeral services; the hearts that prompted the beautiful floral offerings; for the many messages of sympathy expressed in letters, cards and telegrams; and also for the thoughtful and sympathetic services rendered on the part of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home.

WPA Workers in State Who Strike Five Days to Lose Jobs

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 13.—George H. Goodman, Work Projects Administrator, has instructed all administrative personnel under him to warn WPA workers that they will lose their jobs if they strike and remain away from their jobs five days, his office here said today.

The recent act of Congress extending WPA for another year carries a clause extending working hours to 130 per month. Goodman has a telegram from Col. F. C. Harrington, Commissioner, at Washington which reads in part as follows:

"In cases where groups of workers stop work in protest against requirement that they work 130 hours per month to earn security wage, it should be explained to them or their representatives that this is a requirement imposed by law and that no official of the Work Projects Administration has any authority to depart from it."

"Workers should be informed that decision rests entirely in their hands as to whether they desire to accept employment under the conditions under which the Work Projects Administration can offer such employment."

"Those who do not desire to accept employment under these conditions and who absent themselves from work for five consecutive working days or longer, shall have their employment terminated."

England Speaks; Hitler Protests

Germany Declares Britain's Attitude in No Wise Alter Decision of Reich

LONDON, July 13.—Prime Minister Chamberlain told Fuehrer Adolf Hitler Monday through a carefully worded statement he read in the House of Commons, that Britain would fight alongside Poland if necessary to prevent Germany from taking the free Baltic port of Danzig back into the Reich.

Hitler was not mentioned by name, but there was no mistaking that the statement, approved in advance by both Poland and France, was written for him.

Reiterating Britain's promise to support the Poles if they fought to protect their independence, Chamberlain said:

"The Vistula (river) is Poland's only waterway to the Baltic, and the port at its mouth (Danzig) is therefore of vital strategic and economic importance to her."

BERLIN, July 13.—German political circles, reacting sharply to Prime Minister Chamberlain's declaration of the British position on Danzig, asserted his statement "changes absolutely nothing."

They charged Britain with "encouraging Polish Chauvinism," and said that, although a "reasonable solution" still could be found for the Danzig problem, "from Berlin the right atmosphere for such a solution cannot be perceived."

"It is particularly deplorable," it was said in these quarters, "that Chamberlain did not mention the wishes of the Danzig citizens."

British Means Business
London.—The Times of London, which often reflects official opinion, last week said: "If the Reich chooses to upset the present state of affairs (in Danzig) by force and if Poland's independence is thereby threatened, then this country will fight."

The Manchester Guardian added: "Germany must be left in no doubt that we are ready and determined to fulfill our obligations to Poland." Said the Daily Mirror: "No more words... we are convinced it is useless to go on chatting with Nazi gangsters."

Kentucky to Have Display of Armed Strength as Legion Marches

ARMoured CAR OF REGIMENTAL COMMANDER

One of the most impressive peace-time displays of military strength Kentucky has ever seen is planned in connection with arrangements for the parade of the 1899 Kentucky State Department convention of the American Legion in Louisville, July 23-24.

This armored regimental commander's car is one of the mechanized cavalry units from Fort Knox that will lead the column of march as veterans of the World War parade again through downtown streets. Both the First and Thirtieth Cavalry regiments will take part in the parade, demonstrating mobility and displaying a variety of Uncle Sam's fighting cars, under orders of Brig. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, Commanding General of the Post. General Chaffee is cooperating with the Legion leaders in planning the parade, and will be a guest of honor at the convention.

Campaign to Eat More Spring Lamb Goes into Full Swing of Second Week

Responding to the request of a committee representing the lamb producers of Kentucky, headed by Judge Frank L. Duffy, Cynthiana, and including all important lamb-raising sections of the state, Kentucky chain stores have launched "EAT MORE KENTUCKY SPRING LAMB" campaign which will extend through the entire month of July.

This is a Kentucky-wide "Producer-Consumer" campaign for this important Kentucky product alone the line of national Producer-Consumer campaigns which have been conducted successfully by food chains for grapefruit, beef, lamb, beans, potatoes and other crops.

It is pointed out that production of spring lambs is increasing rapidly in Kentucky while consumption within the state continues to lag behind. The national per capita use of lamb exceeds 8 pounds in Kentucky it is less than one-half pound. Producers say that many Kentuckians do not appreciate the delicacy of spring lamb simply because they have not tried it while others could not resist the splendid flavor of spring lamb with mutton.

In addition to grocery chains, which will feature lamb during July, a number of non-grocery chain stores have agreed to assist in the promotion of Kentucky Spring Lamb. Among them are S. S. Kresge Co., F. W. Woolworth Co., Kuhn's 5-10-25c Stores, S. H. Kress Co., Pressman's Department Stores, Charles Stores, and Scott's Stores. A number of independent retailers have also pledged their assistance in the drive to enlist Kentuckians to consume more of one of the state's finest products and most important cash-income crop.

The slogan of Kentucky producer-consumer campaigns is: "Your profit when Kentucky prospers."

Fire Does Damage To Farmer Home

$3,000 Loss is Estimated as Flames Ravish 2-Story Building on Poplar Street

Fire Saturday afternoon was responsible for approximately $3,000 damages to the 2-story residential structure of Arthur Farmer on Poplar street, both in building loss and furniture.

Supposedly starting from a heated electric iron on the second floor, the fire burned rapidly. No one was at home at the time, but passersby seeing smoke issue from the building called the local fire department, which quickly extinguished the flames, not, however, before the entire upstairs had been ruined.

The building was partially protected by insurance. It was indicated, the structure will be rebuilt.

Dyer Maintains FSA Aids Farmers

Farmers Should Begin Next Year's Farm Plans Now, County Supervisor Points Out

"In a great many cases, farmers in Calloway and Graves counties eligible for the credit and farming advice which the Farm Security Administration has to offer will want to start a farming program which gradually will build up the land, so that the farm may become a profitable enterprise," said G. C. Dyer, Mayfield, County FSA supervisor in an interview this week.

The soil improvement and farm improvement phase of FSA's rehabilitation program will be emphasized during the balance of this year, according to Dyer.

"A sound farm plan should be worked out for each individual farm, and it is not too soon for farmers planning to take advantage of this service for next year to begin making their applications," he asserted.

Loans can be made for purchase of lime, phosphate, seed for cover crops, workstock, livestock, farm implements, fencing for pastures, minor repairs to farm buildings and other items necessary in a sound farming program.

The credit and advice offered by the Farm Security Administration is not for the purpose of promoting a highly specialized type of cash farming," Dyer said, "but rather for the purpose of enabling the farmer to work out and follow a long range 'live-at-home' farm plan, embracing the production of food for the family, feed for livestock, adequate cash for farm and family necessities and repaying the loan," he pointed out.

Goods, as seed and fertilizer, must be repaid in one year, but a longer period is allowed for that part of the loan which goes to purchase lime, phosphate, livestock, and farming equipment, also for repairs of a permanent nature," he pointed out.

Hawks Is Jailed on Liquor Charge

RICHMOND, Va., July 13.—Secretary of the Navy Claude August Swanson, for almost half a century a leader in the public life of the state and the nation, was buried in Richmond's historic Hollywood cemetery Monday after a state funeral in Washington.

Short but impressive ceremonies were held at the Swanson vault, on a high knoll overlooking the James river. There the first Mrs. Swanson is buried.

Capt. Robert D. Workman, head chaplain of the Navy, said a short prayer from the entrance to the flower-banked tomb, where the widow, members of the immediate family and a large group of the secretary's personal friends were assembled.

Secretary Swanson, 77, died Friday, leaving a gap in both President Roosevelt's cabinet and in Democratic party councils. For three years, he had been in ill health, forced to turn over to aides direction of many phases of the Navy's greatest peacetime expansion.

Church trustees are expecting 500 people to be present. The meeting will last all day, and lunch will be spread on the grounds. Members of the committee are Elmus Carson, Hallet Dunlap, Headley Swift, J. A. L. Langston, Frank Swift, and Luther Carson.

McNutt to Head Federal Agency

Refuses Presidency of Ohio State University for Administration Job

WASHINGTON, July 13.—An authoritative report that Paul V. McNutt has accepted appointment as head of the new Federal Security Agency developed congressional speculation today that the former Indiana Governor definitely had tied his political destiny to that of the administration.

Friends of McNutt, now high commissioner to the Philippines, already are working actively to make him the Democratic presidential nominee in 1940. McNutt has said he would not oppose President Roosevelt if the latter should seek a third term.

The Indiana told friends on Capitol Hill he already had accepted the job, in which he would have general supervision over the Social Security Board, CCC, National Youth Administration and other government agencies.

Interesting Features of Johnson's Life Shown in Newspaper Career

Keen, like any other newspaper man, soon after he began publication of the Richmond Daily Register in 1923 began to show interest in political affairs. This was natural as his newspaper, commented on candidates and issues alike in county, district and state campaigns.

Keen and his newspaper both support the Democratic Party. Keen himself has always been a Democrat and his family and relatives have always affiliated with the Party.

Soon after his arrival in Richmond, Keen became a member of the Young Democratic Club of Madison county. He was prominent in the activities of the organization and served as its first president.

His sphere of political influence continued to widen and in 1932, the Democratic state convention elected him as secretary of the Kentucky Democratic Central and Executive Committee, a ranking post in party affairs in the state. He was re-elected in 1936, his term of office expiring in 1940.

In 1935 he became a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. He easily won the party nomination and swept into office in the November election by a majority of more than 100,000 votes.

As lieutenant governor he was presiding officer of the Kentucky Senate. Here he aided in the formulation of much of the social and progressive legislation that is now on the statute books. He displayed particular interest in measures affecting the average Kentuckian and won respect of his Senate colleagues both for his ability and as a fair, impartial presiding officer.

During the years that elapsed since he left his boyhood home in Lyon county Keen in addition to his newspaper work and soldiering has affiliated with a number of organizations. He is a past president of the Kentucky Press Association and a past president of the alumni association of the University of Kentucky. He is a member of the American Legion, the Forty-and-Eight, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and, as lieutenant governor, is chairman of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board. He is a member of the Masonic Order, the Junior Order of American Mechanics, the Elks and the Odd Fellows.

He was married in 1917 to Miss Eunice Nichols, of Missouri. They have one child, a daughter, Miss Judy, 12 years old.

This in brief is the career of Keen Johnson. It is a career unmarked by any sensational or flashy performances. It is one built on the solid foundations of friendship, hard work and a strict adherence to the job before him.

His acquaintanceship in the state is large, his reputation for integrity is of the highest, his ability is unquestioned. Even those who oppose him pay high tribute to his honesty, his fairness and his ability.

It is a long way from a barefoot boy of Lyon county to the candidacy for the nomination for the governorship of Kentucky but it has been a way marked by achievement, hard work and honesty, honesty and without ill feeling.

Letters to Editor

Shawnee, Okla.
The Ledger & Times
Murray, Ky.

I would like very much for you to make some announcement in next week's paper in regard to my coming home to visit with my father, B. B. Cutham, of near Brown's Grove, and of the fact that I will be in two revivals this summer while in Kentucky, one at Antioch Church of Christ (near Brown's Grove) and the other at Friendship Church of Christ.

You perhaps remember me. I finished school at Murray State spring of '35, and then located in Shawnee, Okla. I have been regular minister here since that time, but always return during the summer for a visit and for meetings. I have had a very profitable work here.

The Antioch meeting begins the third Sunday, July 16, and the Friendship meeting begins the fifth Sunday, July 30. I will also conduct meetings in Bradford and McKenzie, Tenn. before returning to Shawnee.

I keep in touch with the happenings of Murray and Calloway county of course through the folks at home and the paper. My best wishes are ever for the fine people of Murray.

I sincerely thank you in advance for this consideration given me in the paper, and trust I may see you this summer.

Gratefully and affectionately,
Perry E. Cutham

"A Soft Answer Turneth Away Wrath"

I have made many mistakes. I have faltered in life as we all do. But there are some things which I have not done and still refrain from doing.

That passage of Scripture which reads, "Train up a child in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it," causes my mind to drift back through the line of memories to my first school days. Mother leads the way and my sister and I follow her footsteps. We travel a winding cow path which leads through hills and hollows until we reach an old rail fence beyond the woods. At this point mother bids us good bye and we continue our two and one-half mile school journey with some neighbor children. After eight hours work and play school is over. Two tired children return home. Evening wanes, night falls and we prepare for bed.

That mother who guided us along the cow path comes and kneels by our bedside and asks the Lord to guide our footsteps along the pathway of life. She also asks that we play the game of life square. The old rail fence has crumpled and fallen, the path has grown up in briars. Mother's hair has turned to silver. Her footsteps have slowed with the years. But her prayer still lingers in my mind.

I am asking you people to elect me as your next circuit court clerk. I am poor in the material things of this life. I have no money with which to attempt to bribe some one to vote against an opponent. I would not use it if I had it. I will stick to my early training and play the game square, win or lose.

It is true that for the past fourteen years I have been employed as a humble school teacher. I have not been endorsed thirteen times for the same school as you might believe. For during my teaching career I have changed schools five different times. My salary has ranged from $46.25 to $71.10 per month. My average salary for the past fourteen years has been $44.10 per year. On this salary I have attempted to go to school, teach school and support a wife and two children. Now I am attempting to educate those two children. Isn't it fair that I should have for one six year term a job that pays as much in one year as I have received in the past five? Rally around me fellow teachers. I have your sympathy. I need your votes and influence. Come to my rescue underpaid workers and farmers. I am a farm boy asking for a lift. I need your hand. Mr. Business Man—some of you were once at the bottom, struggling to climb.

Consider that life is short. We all should prepare for death, but we all aspire to climb in life. You have a boy, girl or friend who is attempting to prepare himself for a position. Think that TWELVE YEARS is about half the allotted time in which one can expect to hold an office. After pondering gives the matter in a conscientious way go to the polls and vote as you feel you should.

I may not arm you up as some candidates do. I may not plead and ask you to make me a promise—but no one will appreciate your vote more than I do have faith in you.

Thank you for all favors.

Kentucky Governors

By JOHN WRIGHT HOLSAFPLE

The front page of a recent issue of the Ledger & Times with its pictures of Brown and Johnson opposing candidates for the Governorship of my native State arouses a chain of thought which leads me to name all your Governors from Isaac Shelby, the first one to the present incumbent. They with date of induction into office are as follows: Isaac Shelby, June 4, 1792; James Garrard, June 1, 1796; James Garrard, June 2, 1800; Christopher Greenup, September 5, 1804; Charles Scott, 1808; Isaac Shelby, September 1812; George Madison, September 1816; Gabriel Slaughter, October 21, 1816; John Adair, September 1820; Joseph Desha, September 1824; Thomas Metcalfe, September 1828; John Breathitt, September 1832; James T. A lieutenant governor was not provided for by the constitution until 1860.

Governors dying while in office have been: Madison, Breathitt, Clark, Helm, Goebel. The last named was killed. He was shot on January 30, 1900, was awarded certificate of election next day, January 31, by vote of both houses of the Legislature and was sworn in as Governor, but died February 3. Upon his death Lieutenant Governor Beckham became governor. Those were about the stormiest days Kentucky has ever seen.

The community singers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Taylor last Friday night. A large number attended and good singing was enjoyed.

There was a large crowd at the singing at South Pleasant Grove. Good notes and duets were on the program. Among the singers were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Adams of Coldwater and Frank McLean of Mayfield and others.

Miss Rebecca Wilkerson, spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. Willey Furchess and family, of Murray.

Mattie Joe Tinsley spent Saturday night and Sunday with Idamae Hart.

Mrs. Odie Wilkerson is not very well—Star.

and never presided over the Senate. Governor John W. Stevenson resigned February 13, 1871, having been elected to the U. S. Senate, and Preston H. Leslie became governor. William H. Goebel contested the seat of William E. Taylor, and was awarded the certificate on January 31, 1900, by vote of both Houses of the Legislature. William Goebel was shot from the executive building by an assassin, while walking to the executive building on January 30, 1900, dying on February 3, 1900. He was declared elected on January 31, 1900, and was sworn in as Governor. Upon his death J. C. W. Beckham, who was declared Lieutenant Governor with William Goebel, became governor.

TO THE VOTERS OF Calloway County and Third Senatorial District

I am a candidate for reelection to the State Senate subject to the primary August 5. Running for reelection at the time of the Governor's race is a little more difficult, as the little political issues that arise in the Governor's race reflects in the other races even if we try to stay clear of their fight.

You may not want to reflect me, but for your own sake and for the future of the State and all its institutions, select someone that is serious-minded as to the financial management of the affairs of state.

I have seen the state debt climb to the enormous and illegal amount of $26,000,000; but this last administration with its prelection promises made good, reduced it to $5,000,000—no other administration having reduced it but have increased it for the last 20 years—not only that but discarded the Sales Tax, brought into action the Old Age Assistance Program, in the amount that it has helped many and as we are getting out of debt many of the most needy persons may be paid more. I don't mean paid more but given more, because it is a gift and not a debt; it comes from the pockets of the taxpayers, and they should be considered.

If the Sales Tax had remained in force there would have been more than $35,000,000 more collected in taxes in this administration, but I am glad to have had a part in removing the Sales Tax and in reducing the State debt. I have fought unreasonable taxes, as "a tax on is never off", but this one was lifted and some others should go.

This administration spent more of the State's money on state buildings than has been spent for rehabilitation in 30 years, not considering the Federal government's aid, which had to be administered by the State.

There has been more money spent on the crippled, tubercular, and blind by this administration than by any previous administration, and I hope the amendment to the constitution permitting the State to give direct aid to the blind and crippled will be approved; then these unfortunate ones may have direct aid, thereby ridding the counties of this burden as much as they are not able to support them. I hope the State will be out of debt within the next two years and will be able to assume the counties' bonded indebtedness where it was spent on roads.

The Rural Highway Dept. has this year equipped itself with modern machinery and in conjunction with the WPA labor, if properly manned, will do a great job on rural roads in the State. The WPA road work without the aid of state machinery, has been a failure; but with this cooperation the work will be a success. Men without machinery cannot build roads. These roads must be maintained, or money will be wasted.

There are 20,000 voters in this district. To see each qualified voter for five minutes would take more than a year and a half; to see one-half of them would take more than nine months. To contact personally even one-half of the voters would cost more than I get out of the office. Then, anyway, why see only a few and slight the rest? I may not see many of you or ask you to vote for me but many of you see me to ask my aid in roads and other personal favors and I have always aided you in any way possible. I acknowledge the fact that I work for more miles of roads than I do for more jobs as there are many working for jobs, but not nearly so many working for more roads. More roads bring more help for more people and their communities. There is not a mile of improved road in the four counties that I have not been over and many unimproved roads I am trying to get improved. I am in better shape to aid in roads than in the past because I have had to close many of my activities in business on account of neglect to them while trying to serve you.

I have been misunderstood on the TVA program, perhaps. I would like to have seen the project placed on up the river to save our valley, but as it is located below I want them to pay taxes to take care of the county losses of revenue and to pay more for certain farms where they take all tillable lands and leave the hills and improvements where they cannot make a living, and the buildings are valueless because there is no tillable lands left in many cases. Also I would like to see them help in locating the tenants in the valley who have no land to sell. I will be less criticized for my stand in 10 years than now. If they can spend $12,000,000 to build the dam then why quibble about paying those people sufficient sums to relocate them—even the tenants. Some may say this is no part of legislative business, but I say that it is! The State government is the only power that can cope with the National government in your protection of your home and in the loss of taxes; if Congress does not act then the State should protest.

I shall try to work with the Governor elected, regardless of party, but will as in the past work to keep the legislative branch at the head of the government as they are the controlling board of the state, the Governor having the right to advise, but many exert an influence over the legislators by coercion and intimidation that does not make for a healthy, law-making body which should be as distinct and as independent as the Executive or Judicial. I have had to disagree in some instances, having served under varied circumstances—under two Democrats and one Republican—but all advocating issues purely to punish some political adversary, in many instances.

No business, bank or government can operate without a governing body, and for state, county and municipal the legislature must be depended upon, and with the little whims of disappointed job holders—instead of the financial control of governmental affairs—we fall short of our mission. But do not blame your legislature elected solely on job promises without any thought of where you are going to get the money. You will regulate the State's business as you cast your vote. Let's pass our state over to the coming generation free of debt.

The weather is hot and the election is getting hot, but regardless of whom you are for you can cool off at our store—THE OOLEST PLACE IN TOWN!

Behind the Scenes in American Business

Holiday Decline
NEW YORK, July 10.—BUSINESS—Millions of Americans enjoyed a four-day holiday last week, an idyllic business volume suffered accordingly. There were, however, such June highlights as a decrease in unemployment to below the 10,000,000 level for the first time since October, 1936; a gain of 15,720 in telephone subscribers; new airline traffic records; a sudden spurt in stock and bond financing by industry, and a rise of 16 per cent in engineering construction contracts. These give reassuring evidence that business is continuing to take on new vitality.

In addition, officials of three major industries last week aligned themselves with those who believe the months ahead will see further extension of these business gains: (1) Public utility men look for a new electric power output record this quarter. (2) Consensus of the country's rail officials is that freight car-loadings, a time-honored trade barometer, will register a more-than-seasonal pickup this summer and fall. (3) Rayon and cotton textile manufacturers, with a substantial business already booked for July, are expecting an excellent third quarter.

Ford Profits Least
WASHINGTON—How much do automobile manufacturers make on new cars? The answer, long a matter of speculation to per buyers and even some dealers, now has been provided by the Federal Trade Commission. In the low-priced field, the commission's recently completed industry study reveals, the Ford V-8 netted a profit of only $6 a car in the Ford company in the four years 1934 through 1937, while in the same period Chevrolet earned for General Motors an average of $40 a car, and Plymouth netted Chrysler Corp. about $48 a car. Apparently the low Ford profit was due largely to the company's not having advanced prices in proportion to rising manufacturing costs during the period. In 1937, Ford's net sales price averaged $6 more per car than four years earlier, but its manufacturing costs were up about $35 a car. Meanwhile Chevrolet's average sales price rose $34 a car, against an increase of $42 in manufacturing costs, while Plymouth's sales were up $28 a car, compared with an increase of only $12 in manufacturing costs, the study showed.

You Don't Know
WE DON'T KNOW—A comparison of findings of two studies recently made public should be of more than passing interest to the average family. The Gallup poll last week reported that 40 per cent of low-income American families believe they pay no taxes. This report followed close on the heels of a National Consumers Tax Commission survey which showed that 56 per cent of the 1938 tax bill was paid by the public in indirect taxes.

Graphically picturing the real sources of local state and federal tax revenues, the NCTC, a nationwide tax education organization, explained that of the $14,155,000,000 total tax burden, $3,204,000,000 came from public indirectly. The commission points out that these shifted taxes—paid on every expenditure for food, housing, clothing, fuel, as well as luxuries—were paid by all families in all income groups, but affect most seriously the 87 per cent of American wage earners whose annual income is $2,500 or less.

Leg Cosmetics
THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Leg cosmetics, a new liquid preparation to make stockings less likely to look more attractive during the summer. Sales slogan is "Pour yourself a pair of stockings." The Tike, a tricycle propelled with a chain-drive like a bicycle. A new wood finish, which requires only one coat instead of the three used in present finishing methods. It is expected to cut time for finishing furniture from 20 hours to five hours or less. A parcel post egg box made wholly of paper, yet able to stand a compressive load of 5000 pounds, according to Designer Frank Watson, Baltimore packaging engineer. The box has double thickness at top, bottom and sides, holds four dozen eggs. A new connection which produces bubbles in bath water.

New Insulation
OZONE REBUFFED—Lightening of the duties of "public utility trouble-shooters" is promised by a newly-developed synthetic rubber-like material made of ordinary coke, limestone and salt. Communications are power lines often are crippled by ozone, a treacherous gas which rapidly deteriorates the insulation on conventionally constructed cable. The new synthetic which scientists call koroseal has been found capable of withstanding the ravages of ozone indefinitely, and wire or cable using this as insulation has already been put on the market by several electrical equipment companies. Koroseal was developed primarily to resist the action of corrosives. It was found to possess many desirable characteristics and its applications were extended to many in-industrial purposes such as acid tank linings, beer tubing, gaskets and the like.

$7,000,000,000 Circulates
HEADLINES IN NEW YORK—Money in circulation tops seven-billion-dollar mark for the first time since bank holiday of March, 1933. Aggregate earnings of New York City banks in second quarter were below last year. Jobs of 100,000 production workers threatened by new CIO strike in General Motors plants. Penalty duties set by U. S. on textile imports of silk from Italy. Treasury officials deny action has any political significance. Private crop experts estimate as of July 1 U. S. wheat crop of 721,000,000 bushels, corn crop of 2,537,000,000 bushels. Last year's crops were 831,000,000 bushels and 2,542,000,000 bushels respectively. 1939 fiscal year deficit of U. S. approximates $3,500,000,000, second highest peace-time total.

PLEASANT VALLEY SCHOOL
Eight o'clock Monday morning found our teacher and 35 children eager to begin another seven-month school term.

We were glad to have several parents and other friends with us and enjoyed their encouraging talks. It is our resolution to have the best school in the county this year. We are going to work harder than we have ever worked before. We invite our parents and friends to visit us at every opportunity.

We are planning to have an ice cream supper in the gymnasium. The exact date will appear in our school news, so watch for it. Everyone will be invited.

H. B. TAYLOR, The MAN

By EDWARD FREEMAN

PART IV

Editors are just as human as other men are, subject to conclusions after which they take neither the trouble nor the opportunity to verify. Often, if they are not ultra-conservative, they delight in opportunities to criticize. Their paper is the medium; their ingenuity at words constitutes the means. Where there is smoke many times they superimpose fire, and gladly do so. It is ammunition for their verbal genius to expand upon.

The same might be true at times with reporters, but such a one is not a good reporter, as in many instances the editor is not a good editor who acts without conviction, or at least with conviction based on faith but not proof.

The items printed in many of the papers mentioned were purely reprints of editorials or news articles published elsewhere that had been composed by Murray reporters and sent to corresponding newspapers.

The words of the reporter may have been entirely accurate. Surely, since Boyce Taylor had been so much in public disapproval elsewhere if not in home papers were eager to scoop up whatever they could concerning him, thus to increase his infamy.

Offering no comment for example, the Owensboro, Ky. News-Herald for April 17, 1919, reports: "The Rev. H. B. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church at Murray, Ky., twice convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 for violation of the influenza order, went to jail last Thursday night after he had repeatedly refused to pay the fine."

Underneath in smaller letters was the sentence: "Dr. McLaughlin delivered two eloquent sermons at the Baptist church Sunday."

The foregoing, in the main, are representative of the assaults from every quarter that Boyce Taylor had to suffer. Faithful as were some of his disciples like Emmett Holland, Galen McBride, W. H. Jones, and others, he could not have the support of all. Even Jesse Christ was not so good a judge of human character that he failed to pick a Judas One in twelve.

So Boyce Taylor lived his dark hour alone, black as the bitter poles, and his followers lived it with him vicariously. The weight of his cross was too burdensome for his strength. Quietly, tragically, poignantly, he faced the truth. He saw the ending of the trail which he must travel, saw it with the courage of one who had come far but would go farther, saw not clearly perhaps, but yet surely. He had burned his bridges. There were no regrets. At the zenith of his career, at the apex of his influence, he stood upon the pinnacle of the life he had built and gazed around him. Here were things that could be done, here were plaudits and acclaim and fortune, here were qualities of cool refreshment for a life that had been over-zealous. How brightly persuasive they gleamed along the cornices of the hour! Sacrifice was not lost, here was reward for hope, out there were elysian fields whose groves would be welcome. The goal of labor was not eternal pain; the result of love was not always hate, the road to beauty need not be alive with thorns. How beautiful was the trail over which he had come! Yet every polished stone was white with blood bleached from his heart. That was what made it beautiful. It was clean. Fire it had taken, degradation, soul and blood and bitterness, and magnificent vision. But it had been worth it all.

Boyce Taylor stood poised at the turning point gazing into the future. Then he turned and strode down into "the Gethsemane" that would lead to Golgotha. "As a lamb he is led to the slaughter, but he openeth not his mouth."

Twenty years have passed since that day of days. Twenty years have softened the acid tones of those who so violently chastised Boyce Taylor in his efforts to unite the Baptist church against war. And now from Los Angeles, on June 23 of this year, comes an Associated Press dispatch which carries out the theme championed so earnestly by Taylor long ago.

"The attitude of the Northern Baptist church on war and conscientious objection was set forth in a report adopted at the annual convention, June 23," the article reads.

"Frank W. Padelford, chairman of a Committee on Exemption from Military Service declared 'no case of infringement of rights of any Baptist objector has come to our attention.' He said this was despite the sound of musketry in every quarter and tremendous acceleration of military preparedness in our own country."

The Committee's report said in part: "We profoundly hope and earnestly pray that our Nation may never again be involved in military strife, nor that any Baptist must risk his life in her defense."

"Churches of America were called upon to combat a growing tide of anti-Semitism," the report submitted to the committee.

The postulate concerning the lives of great men that "their work lives after them" is clearly seen in the attitudes of those who remember Taylor.

"I was a great admirer of Brother Taylor for his courage and faithfulness in the face of an adverse world," declared A. L. Voris, of Corbin, Ky. Mrs. Dora Griffith, of Alexandria, Va., said "he seemed to have such a clear conception of the Bible, and could say more of it with the fewest words of anyone I ever heard preach." Elder George

On one occasion, Mrs. Jennie Adams, Bayou, Ky., wrote to Mr. Taylor. "Because you are 'set for the defense of the Gospel,' she said, 'I am sending you the enclosed ten dollars (which is the tithe from a gift from my mother).

The Citadel of a Great Ministry

Surrounded by his first board of deacons is Boyce Taylor, in the center, with his family. He was nearing 35 and was in the prime of his pastoral genius. In the circle with him are Mrs. H. B. Taylor, who still is active in church work here; their daughter, Frances, at the left, who now is a prominent schoolteacher at Burnside, Ky., but who spends her summers here; and H. B. Taylor, Jr., who now is a prominent newspaper editor in Florida.

At the top, reading from left to right are E. T. Dunnaway, W. G. Love, and Barber McElrath. At left center is Clint Jones and at right center is W. W. Harding. At the bottom are W. T. Sledd, Sr., and J. H. Churchill. Jones, Sledd, and Churchill are still living.

Notice the general preference for mustaches.

S. Pleasant Grove

Death visited this community Sunday, and took as its victim Ivan Ervin, who lived on what was formerly known as the Marion Dunn farm. A few weeks' illness first of bronchitis developed into pneumonia. His first wife, who preceded him some 40 years, was a daughter of the late Marshall Rogers, one son, Charlie of this vicinity, survived her. His widow was a Miss Adair who with her daughter, Mrs. Aubrey Shrader, returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin with his wife, a nurse of Pleasant Grove, Ark., arrived Thursday, and all were present when the end came. Mr. Ervin was a member of the Antioch Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaul Johnson of Gary, Ind., accompanied by their two children, who had been visiting their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hummer, returned last week to their home in Gary.

Others of the community who entertained during last week relatives from a distance were Mrs. Ervin, who and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ervin, Messrs. Hub and Camilla Ervin, Mr. and Mrs. Robby McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ervin, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Boyd, and Mrs. Minnie Smotherman.

Bert Moore motored over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Adams near Gary, Ind., and spent the afternoon with the church where they favored the audience with some special duets which were greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cunningham returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin on Sunday by relatives out of the vicinity at both church services here. If people were not so busy with church and school, there would not be so many empty pews.

Bogard Dunn and his mother, Mrs. K. G. Dunn, accompanied by Miss Alice Waters were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Boyd.

On Sunday afternoon a crowded house greeted the fine group of singers from many localities who sang many good spiritual songs. The leader did not forget the Bible. Young Mr. Howard of Sinking Spring read a chapter followed by prayer by Bro. Jim Wraether of this place.

If teachers comply with the law school children in Kentucky will also daily hear Bible readings in their assemblies.
